

Hoang Tao

Hoang is a Ph.D. candidate in the Planning and Urban Studies department at UNO. His dissertation is focused on environmental justice and equity of repetitive flood loss and mitigation. He earned his urban planning, architecture, fine art, and construction technology degrees from UNO, CSU, and FSU. He has studied, worked, and lived domestically in LA and NYC, and abroad in Italy, China, Taiwan, and Mozambique. He has been a GA lead researcher at UNO-CHART for the past four years. He is affiliated with the American Planning Association, the National Peace Corps Association, and the Clinton Global Initiative. Hoang is involved locally with Engineers without Borders, Evacuteer as a spot captain, the Water Collaborative as a board member, and Open Architecture as a communication director.