EDUCATION and ECONOMIC & COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

2024 Region 4 Sustainable Materials Management Grants
Environmental Protection Agency

Notice seeking proposals for projects that will improve community resilience and sustainability through sustainable materials management. Applicants must select at least one of the following technical assistance methods: research, investigation, experiments, education, training, studies and/or demonstration of innovative techniques. Applicants' projects must take place within EPA Region 4, which includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee.

Proposals are due October 31, 2024. Up to four awards ranging from $50,000 to $125,000 each are available.

Presidential Advisory Commission on Advancing Educational Equity, Excellence, and Economic Opportunity for Black Americans
Education

Notice seeking participants in an open meeting. The agenda includes remarks from Congressional representatives, advisory committee leaders, department of education leaders, a student, and subject matter experts. The committee generally advises on: what is needed for the development, implementation, and coordination of educational programs and initiatives at the Department and other agencies to improve educational opportunities and outcomes for Black Americans; how to promote career pathways for in-demand jobs for Black students, including registered apprenticeships, internships, fellowships, mentorships, and work-based learning initiatives; how to increase public awareness of and generate solutions for the educational and training challenges and equity disparities that Black Americans face and the causes of these challenges; and approaches to establish local and national partnerships with public, private, philanthropic, and nonprofit stakeholders.

The meeting will be held on September 10, 2024. Registration is required.

Clinical Trials Addressing Unmet Needs of Rare Neurodegenerative Diseases (R01)
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Food and Drug Administration

Notice seeking proposals for clinical trials evaluating the efficacy and/or safety in support of a new indication or change in labeling to address unmet needs in rare neurodegenerative diseases for children and adults. The priority is to support research and development of interventions intended to prevent, diagnose, mitigate, treat or cure rare neurodegenerative diseases, particularly of interest are approaches including innovative clinical trial designs and methods.

Proposals are due October 22, 2024. Maximum award amount is $650,000 per year, for up to 4 years.

Ending the HIV Epidemic in the U.S. Ryan White HIV AIDS Program Parts A and B
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Resources and Services Administration

Notice seeking proposals for projects that implement effective and innovative strategies, interventions, approaches, and services to reduce new HIV infections in the United States with a focus on HIV high burden areas.

Proposals are due October 22, 2024. An estimated $175 million is available to fund 47 awards. Eligibility is limited to jurisdictions whose service areas include one or more of 48 HIV high burden counties; and to states/territories identified as having a substantial rural HIV burden - Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and South Carolina. Colleges and universities may be able to collaborate. Only one application is allowed per applicant.

NCI Research Specialist (Clinician Scientist) Award (R50 Clinical Trial Not Allowed)
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, National Institutes of Health

Notice seeking proposals to support exceptional clinician scientists who want to continue to participate in the NCI clinical trials networks through leadership in the 1) development of national clinical trials, 2) implementation of NCI clinical trials in their institutions, and 3) national service to the NCI clinical trials networks through participation in the scientific review committees, monitoring committees and other activities, but not serve as principal investigators of research project grants. The Research Specialist Award is intended to provide salary support and sufficient autonomy so that individuals are not solely dependent on NCI grants held by others or other sources of support for cancer research career continuity.

Proposals are due November 4, 2024. Awards may vary.

Advancing Healthcare for Older Adults from Populations that Experience Health Disparities (R01 - Clinical Trial Optional)
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, National Institutes of Health

Notice seeking proposals to advance the science and implementation of innovative multi-level health care research for older adults from populations that experience health disparities. The initiative will support research designed to (1) gain a better understanding of appropriate screening, diagnostic, and clinical care guidelines in a primary care setting, (2) explore shared decision-making that is needed to enhance care planning and patient agency between clinicians and care teams with the older adult and their caregiver(s), and (3) identify effective strategies for care coordination.

Proposals are due annually on February 5, June 5, and October 5 through January 8, 2028.

The Impact of Stressors on the Biological Mechanisms of Aging and Other Aging-Associated Outcomes in Experimental Model Systems (R61-R33 Clinical Trial Not allowed)

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, National Institutes of Health

Notice seeking proposals proposing research that incorporates exposures to a stressor(s) during the post-development period ("adulthood") into studies of aging processes. Research proposed in the initial, exploratory (R61) phase will seek to determine whether exposure to a stressor(s) (e.g., physical, social, and/or environmental stressors of well-defined duration, intensity, and timing) during adulthood results in measurable changes in one or more of the hallmarks of aging. The second, developmental (R33) phase will then expand upon findings yielded in the R61 phase to determine the impacts of the stressor(s) on lifespan, healthspan, resilience, and/or interactions with other "input variables" such as genotype, diet, interventions, etc.

Optional letters of intent are due October 7, 2024. Proposals are due November 7, 2024. An estimated $3.25 million is available to fund up to eight awards.

Understanding the mechanisms underlying the age-related changes in gait biomechanics and the impact on the increased metabolic cost of walking (R01 Clinical Trial Optional)

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, National Institutes of Health

Notice seeking proposals that propose human studies to better understand the mechanisms underlying compensatory gait, posture, and molecular changes that contribute to slower walking speed and increased metabolic cost of walking. This Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) encourages interdisciplinary collaborations to design integrative approaches that explore interactions among multiple systems (e.g., skeletal, muscle, tendon, somatosensory, and central nervous).

Proposals are due November 7, 2024. An estimated $3 million is available to fund up to four awards.

IJJA-IRA Bureau of Land Management National Operations Center (NOC) Invasive and Noxious Plant Management Program
Interior

Notice seeking proposals that support strategic efforts to combat noxious weeds and invasive species on public lands, and support the health of native landscapes. Especially encouraged are projects that help prevent, detect, and eradicate noxious weeds and invasive plant species; development of outreach and education materials to engage the public; and the development of methods or modeling to increase the detection and mapping of noxious weeds and invasive plant species.

Proposals are due September 30, 2024. An estimated $800,000 is available to fund up to five awards.

LINKS: Grants.gov; Agency Site

IJJA-IRA Bureau of Land Management National Operations Center (NOC) Plant Conservation and Restoration Management
Interior

Notice seeking proposals that advance the National Native Seed Strategy. Activities can include, but are not limited to: seed conservation, habitat monitoring, protection, and restoration; implementation of conservation for high priority rare plant species; studies of rare plant biology and threats; and studies to improve the effectiveness of conservation restoration efforts; collaboration with growers to develop genetically appropriate native plant material for use in habitat restoration and rehabilitation; pollinator studies; public education and outreach programs.

Proposals due September 30, 2024. An estimated $800,000 is available to fund up to five awards.

IIJA-IRA Bureau of Land Management National Operations Center (NOC) Threatened and Endangered Species Program
Interior

Notice seeking proposals for projects that are state or regional in scope or projects that provide a programmatic approach for improving the Bureau effectiveness or efficiency for conservation efforts for threatened and endangered species. The National Operations Center (NOC) program is looking for projects that will result in or facilitate national implementation or outreach of tangible on the ground actions that will improve species populations (numbers, representation, or resilience) or reduce population level threats, and support (NOC) Threatened and Endangered Species Program efforts to conserve and recover over 330 federally-listed and over 2,700 Bureau sensitive animal and plant species and their habitat on public lands.

Proposals are due September 30, 2024. An estimated $800,000 is available to fund up to five awards.

LINKS: Grants.gov; Agency Site

IIJA-IRA Bureau of Land Management National Operations Center (NOC) Wildlife Resource Management
Interior

Notice seeking proposals to provide for the long-term conservation of wildlife and biodiversity on public lands. The Wildlife Program particularly encourages program activities that support maintaining functioning wildlife habitats, developing, and implementing restoration projects, and the inventory and monitoring of priority habitats and species to track trends and use on public lands. The Wildlife Program uses a science-based approach to manage public lands to identify projects that support meeting land health standards and desired resource objectives for priority species and habitats, as outlined in land use plans. The program is focused on addressing habitat connectivity issues and implementing projects that consider climate change impacts to short- and long-term objectives.

Proposals are due September 30, 2024. An estimated $800,000 is available to fund up to five awards.

NASA Space Technology Graduate Research Opportunities Fall 2025
National Aeronautics and Space Administration

Notice seeking proposals from applicants for graduate student research that has significant potential to contribute to NASA's goal of creating innovative new space technologies for our Nation's science, exploration, and economic future. Fellows will perform research at their respective campuses and at NASA Centers. Each recipient will be matched with a technically relevant and community-engaged NASA researcher who will serve as the research collaborator on the award. Through this collaboration, graduate students will be able to take advantage of broader and/or deeper space technology research opportunities directly related to their academic and career objectives, acquire a more detailed understanding of the potential end applications of their space technology efforts, and directly disseminate their research results within the NASA community.

Proposals due November 1, 2024. 55 awards are anticipated, and the maximum award amount is $84,000.
